

MAY 2025

Bridging Accounting Research Methodologies

BAM NEWSLETTER

Highlights & Save the Date for September 2025

Dear BAM Network members,

we are pleased to share our network highlights for 2025!

Lecture series with Eva Labro at JGU Mainz!

Our 1st BAM Lecture series took place at JGU Mainz on February 6 and 7, 2025.

Eva Labro, Michael W. Haley Distinguished Professor of Accounting, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, held a lecture on “Building Bridges in Accounting Research”. Stimulating discussions were centered around creating synergies between theory and empirical research in accounting. The emphasis was on how theory can guide empirical work and how empirics can direct theory's focus. Moreover, Eva and the participants discussed how to overcome the academic divide among financial accounting, managerial accounting, tax accounting, and auditing research.

Eva also shared her rich publishing and editorial experience in the “Meet the editor session”.

Finally, Eva presented her recent working paper “Consistency is Key: How Costing Information Consistency Helps Hospitals Manage Costs”.

Thank you, Eva, for a truly inspiring talk and presentation!

MAY 2025

Bridging Accounting Research Methodologies

BAM NEWSLETTER

Highlights & Save the Date for September 2025

MARK YOUR CALENDAR:

2nd BAM Junior Workshop, Ideas Market and Lecture Series in September 2025!

When and Where:

- September 24-26, 2025
- Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz

Preliminary agenda:

- Workshop – 1 hour seminar style presentations
- Ideas Market – presentations and discussions of new research ideas
- Lecture series

If you would like to present your working paper or an idea for a new project, please indicate during registration or contact us directly at accounting-network@uni-mainz.de.

Registration:

- Participation is free—register here.
- If you need funding for your travel expenses, please indicate during the registration process or contact us directly at accounting-network@uni-mainz.de !

We are looking forward to seeing you in September!

For more on the BAM Network and how to join, visit our website:

<https://accounting-network.uni-mainz.de/>